Fire Debris Removal

The Los Angeles Department of Public Health (County) has issued an order regarding fire debris removal that can be viewed at http://publichealth.lacounty.gov/. This order provides guidelines under which fire debris can be removed (please check website frequently for updates). Only permitted waste haulers may transport waste generated within the City of Los Angeles. As a permitted waste hauler, it is the responsibility of the haulers to ensure that State and County guidelines are also followed when handling and transporting hazardous fire debris. These include, but are not limited to CalOSHA Worker Safety and Health during Wildfire Clean-up requirements and the use of appropriately licensed contractors with a Hazardous Substance Removal (HAZ) Certification. Materials that are categorized as fire debris are considered hazardous and should not be transported to Mixed C&D Processor Facilities.

recycLA Program

The possession of a Solid Waste Hauler permit shall not grant haulers that are not recycLA Service Providers the right to collect from recycLA customers. The following waste types are exempt from the recycLA Program: Medical; Hazardous; Electronic; Radioactive; Pharmaceutical; C&D; Specialty (e.g. biosolids, fats, oils, and grease); and On-Location Filming. Sorted recyclables are excluded if they were donated at no charge, or if they were sold as a commodity.

Mixed C&D Waste Collection in the City – All mixed C&D waste generated within the City must be delivered only to City-certified C&D waste processors. Penalties of up to $5,000 may be assessed for each load of unlawfully-disposed C&D waste. It is your responsibility to know the certification status of the facilities you utilize. To obtain a current list of City-certified C&D waste processors, go to www.lacitysan.org/haulerpermit. Make sure to visit this site frequently, since the list is subject to change without notice.

Residential Mixed Solid Waste Collection in the City – In accordance with the terms and conditions of your permit, the issuance of a Solid Waste Hauler Permit does not authorize the permit holder to collect, remove, or transport household refuse from any dwelling unit (LAMC Section 66.0) that receives refuse collection service from the City of Los Angeles.

If you have any questions regarding the permit renewal process, the status of your permit renewal, or any other information contained in this letter, please contact your analyst or Olu Hawes at 213-485-4218/ Olujimi.Hawes@lacity.org, or Lorena Valdez at 213-485-3766/ Lorena.Valdez@lacity.org.
